Fig 3. Relationships between %MVC and isometric contraction duration. Between trial differences showed significant differences between segment 1, trial 1 and segment 1 trail 3 (* = $p < 0.05$). Values are means for 14 subjects calculated for each time segment and averaged across the four repetitions carried out during each trial.