COLLECTIVE LANDSCAPE FUTURES: GROWTH & CLIMATE: THE ETHICS OF DESIGN

- 27th Jan 2023
- 6:00pm - 8:00pm
- Stephen Lawrence Gallery

Collective Landscape Futures are a series of three roundtable discussions exploring the future of landscape and urban practice. Held as conversations between students, graduates, tutors and guests to discuss the relationship between landscape and the interconnected issues of ethics, belonging, care and the economic and environmental crises.

Hosted by Anushka Athique and Roo Angell with the Department of Landscape Architecture and Urbanism.

COLLECTIVE LANDSCAPE FUTURES: Growth & Climate: The ethics of design.

A roundtable discussion exploring how design practices can contribute to the policies and realisation of the degrowth agenda, taking in alternative models of governance and material use.

Speakers include: Will Sandy, Gabriella Gomez-Mont, and Lenny Rajmont.

Chaired by Roo Angell & Anushka Athique
