

The Book

Praxis seeks to build a space of questioning, of seeking to understand, to communicate something somewhere beyond the halo of what we might be able, or might be comfortably able, to mediate, to transport. Emergent from the confinements, curfews, quarantines, and travel bans of these past months, the 22 contributors of this collection set out to bring some coherency to the confusions and conflicts in which we find ourselves immersed, find form, functions, trace faults, the unsaid. The shape of unravellings and what could be shored up against them. that which underpins our times.

The Author/Editor

Praxis is edited by Andrew Hodgson, Rosie Šnajdr and Chris Clarke. It includes contributions by, in order of appearance: Emily Critchley, Imogen Reid, Derek Beaulieu, Andrew Hodgson, Sawako Nakayasu, Outranspo, Bhanu Kapil, Guy Bennett, Spencer Thomas Campbell, Joanna Walsh, Jake Kennedy, Vanessa Onwuemezi, Eley Williams, Kevin McPherson Eckhoff, Isabel Waidner, Shola von Reinhold, Robert Kiely, Chris Clarke, Shane Jesse Christmass, Kimberly Campanello, Rosie Šnajdr, and Roy Claire Potter.

Pages: 302

Dimensions: B Format

ISBN: 978-1-8380156-6-4

Cat No: DW-001-105

Imprint: Dostoyevsky Wannabe Originals

Publishing Model: Tailored

a Dostoyevsky Wannabe Original

Praxis

Edited by Andrew Hodgson,
Rosie Šnajdr and Chris Clarke

