

Deep Bass Noise i

28th May 2023, Amersham Arms, New Cross, London.

This event performing alongside Bulkwash band was an opportunity to dive in providing an evening of vibrations using the foundations of experimental noise and deep bass practice. This was an ear marker working towards preparation for launching the Disruptive Frequencies vinyl on the 15th July 23 at Kings Place in London.

Increasingly becoming novel, questions circulate regarding non-existent Bass weighted frequencies amongst other experimental music and its contemporaries, henceforth the research and practice works utilising live electronics and uncomfortable noises as a catalyst to evoke change.
